Second Annual Parade of Music Well Received Monday

The second Parade of Music, held in the High School Auditorium last Monday evening, was attended by 650 citizens of Hamlin and surrounding areas. The program for the evening consisted of concerts by all four performing bands of the school music program, and was highlighted by the presentation of trophy awards to Mr. Marvin Carlton for the Junior High Band, and to Mr. B. V. Newberry for the High School Band. The Junior High trophy was a sweepstake award which was won at the Cisco Jr. High Band Festival, and the High School Trophy was a special award won in regional competition which consisted of a first division in marching and a first division in concert playing.

Another individual highlight of the evening's entertainment was the presentation of the high school band's John Philip Sousa Award to senior band member, Cliff Drummond. This award is based on the individual's band record over a four year high school period, and is presented annually to the senior student musician whose "achievement and interest in instrumental music, singular merit in loyalty and cooperation, and whose display is generally of those high qualities of conduct which school instrumental music strives to impart."

The concert began at 7:30 p.m. with this year's beginner group of 5th grade students. Their program included "Mr. Boom Boom March," "Theme From Gunsmoke," and "When the Saints Go Marching In."

The junior high school band played the following four numbers: "Legionaires on Parade March," "Theme From Italian Caprice," "I Whistle a Happy Tune," and "Americade," a medley of patriotic songs.

The high school band program was begun by the theme for this year's spring concert "Say it With Music," followed by a varied program of solos and novelties. The contest march "Western" was the first formal program number followed by "Voodoo," "The Four Hornsmen," a French horn quartet featuring Thelma McClung, Polly Jackson, Caron Knabel and Kathy Hallmark; "Drummin Thru The Rye," a drum ensemble novelty; Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Sound of Music," "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," a tuba solo featuring Ronnie Sipe; "Rampage of the Old Gray Mare," complete with hoofbeats and horse neighing. The final number on the high school portion was John Philip Sousa's rousing "Liberty Bell" march.

After a short intermission the stage band performed in their first formal concert appearance. Among other numbers of a varied program, the stage band features were "In a Pensive Mood," a piano solo by Judy Fitzgerald, "Autumn Leaves," a vocal featuring Beth Christian, and "High Society," a dextelander number performed by seven members of the stage band group.

The evening's activities were climaxed by a reception held in the band hall following the concert, and attended by some 350 persons.

The high school band's summer activities include the Miss Beauty of Hamlin Parade on Thursday, May 25th. The Hamlin Junior Rodeo Parade on Thursday, June 15th and the three-day rodeo performance on June 15, 16, and 17.

The campaign calls for 133 workers. They will be divided into five groups one group to handle special solicitations, and four groups of a Major, five Captain and five workers each to handle general solicitations.

would be held in the high school auditorium June 1, 1961 at which time special recognition would be given to clubs and individuals for 'Merit of

The president of the Texas State AFL-CIO, H. S. Brown of Austin, who began his career in the Texas labor movement in 1943 as a journeyman plumber, after serving his apprenticeship, will cross verbal swords on philosophy of taxation with a rancher from San Antonio and former member of the Texas Legislature Frates Seelgson.

In addition to the addresses, the convention program will include activity reports, election of officers, a tour of famous Chondor Gardens for the delegates' wives, and selection of the 1962 convention city, King said.

AUSTIN TEX. — From here on the Legislature must make every minute count if it is to wind up essential business before the regular session ends on May 29.

Despite the dwindling time, filibusters, postponements and disagreements have slowed progress on tax-raising and other "must" legislation.

The House passed 2 per cent sales tax faces two ultimatums. Gov. Price Daniel said he could not allow it to become law unless the total money-and official say-so on tax yield estimates.

Governor Daniel's veto threat chilled earlier optimism about an early wrap-up of money problems and turned House members to thinking again in terms of compromise and "package bills."

SPENDING CONFEREES—A ten-man conference committee is at work ironing out the differences between House and Senate versions of the general appropriations bill.

House bill would cost about $16,000,000 more than the Senate's. Committee's task of striking a balance between the two is expected to take three weeks.

Senate members of this important committee are Senators Ray Roberts of McKinney, A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and Wardlow Lane of Center.

House members are Representatives James Cotton of Weatherford, Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, B. H. Dewey of Bryan, J. W. Buchanan of Dumas and Malcolm McGregor of El Paso.

TEACHER PAY PUSHED—Advocates of higher teacher salaries are pushing to get their bill in position for quick final action once the money-raising and general appropriations measures are out of the way.

House Appropriations Committee approved and sent to the floor a bill that would provide the full $800 a year salary increase sought by teachers.

Goal is to get a pay raise bill passed in both houses, then send it to a conference committee to work out differences. Then at the strategic moment, it would be ready for final adoption by both houses.

Training Methods Scored—House members are pressing for speedy action for a measure that would require less emphasis on "how" and more emphasis on "what" in public school teacher training.

Rep. Henry C. Grover of Houston, a teacher on leave, is sponsor of the bill that would reduce required education (teaching methods) course from 24 semester hours to 12 for junior and senior high teachers. For grade school teachers the maximum would be reduced from a possible 60 to 24 semester hours.

One supporter observed that the late Albert Einstein would not have been eligible to teach mathematics in a Texas high school. House voted to instruct the Education Committee to report on the bill immediately.

Re Districting Hits Bump—Senate efforts to pass a senatorial re-districting bill were postponed by Sen. Jeph Fuller's filibustering opposition.

Senator Fuller of Port Arthur opposes the proposed measure that would continue to combine Orange County with Jefferson (Beaumont, Port Arthur) to form his district. Jefferson County alone has more than enough voters to be a one-county district, says Fuller, and Orange would rather be in another district with counties of the same size.

Pressure to force agreement on a re-districting bill will be very strong since, if the Legislature fails to act, a non-legislative Board will take over.

Gloomy Reports—While lawmaking struggled to find new taxes, the news about present taxes was bad all over.

State Treasurer Jesse James reported that Texans apparently are not smoking and drinking like they used to, causing a million dollar slump in tobacco and liquor taxes in April. Revenue dropped from $8,689,855 in March to $7,362,176 in April.

Motor fuel tax revenue was also off, according to State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer. A 3 1/2 per cent drop during the past eight months cost the state $3,000,000.

NEINDA PHILOSOPHER GIVES MANY ADVANTAGES IN BEING A FARMER

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route 1 discusses the advantages of farming this week, at least we think that's what he's doing.

Dear editor:

Every once in a while somebody asks me why I keep on farming it's as hard as I let on and the chances of breaking even are as slim as I claim, but that's because they don't understand all of the advantages.

It's true farming out in the open under the uncertainties of the weather is a hazardous undertaking, about like trying to run a drygoods store without a roof or a bank without a vault, and it's true that insects are as smart as men and while man is staying up all night in a laboratory developing an insecticide that's bound to work, it turns out the insects stayed up the night before developing an immunity to it. As I've found out long ago, every time man comes out with a new insecticide, the insects come out with a new insect.

Moreover, a lot of people distrust a farmer. If he gets ahead he's responsible for the high cost of living; if he fails, he's incompetent.

I could go on, but by this time you're probably wondering what are the advantages of farming?

Well, I won't have room this week to list all the advantages, not to mention time to think them up, or the imagination to manufacture them, but there is one advantage that occurred to me the other day and I've been basking in it ever since.

It's true: the farmer will never be filed on by the United States government for price-fixing.

You're not going to catch us inviting the wrath of Attorney General Bobby Kennedy by getting together and deciding how much we ought to charge for what we produce. We've out-smarted all the lawyers in the government, and in all the history of agriculture since man first found out if you put a seed in the ground it'd sprout to the present day, when we can produce more than the country can handle, no farmer has ever been guilty of deciding what the price of what he has produced should be. We haul it to town and ask somebody. Lots of times we don't get near enough, but we sure stay out of court.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

HUMBLE CHANGES ITS BRAND NAME TO ENCO IN SOUTHWEST

Today Humble & Refining Company unveiled its new Enco trademark to motorists of Texas and the Southwest. Announcement of the new brand name was made last week.

Enco comes from the Company's slogan, "America's leading Energy Company," adopted after the merger last year of domestic affiliates of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) into the new Humble Oil & Refining Company.

The new trademark will identify Humble gasolines, motor oils and other products throughout the West, Middle West and Southwest. Except in Texas, Enco will also be used in the oval sign identifying service stations selling Humble products. In Texas, service stations will continue to be identified by an oval Humble sign.

By replacing 12 different brand names and four different service stations identification signs established before the merger, Enco is expected to end a confusion of brand names among the company's customers as they travel from state to state.

Two new premium gasolines make their debut under the Enco trademark. Through an exclusive combination of additives developed by Humble research, these new premium gasolines give cars what Humble calls an "energy boost."

Humble engineers say this energy boost results from greater engine efficiency achieved by the cleaning action of the new combination of additives.

To acquaint motorists with the new Enco trademark, a widespread advertising campaign in all media began this week. One feature of this campaign is an offer of a free Parker Eversharp Reporter ball-point pen to the first 200,000 customers who test-drive a new Enco premium gasoline and report on the results.

The public is also invited to register in the "Enco Energy Travelcade," an obligation-free drawing. There will be 2,046 prizes, including the grand prize—a "Happy Motoring" family vacation every year for five years.

The Enco trademark was first tested last summer when the new Humble Oil & Refining Company began to market Enco gasolines through Carter stations in the Pacific Northwest. Later, the identification signs was tested in eastern Washington and western Montana, and Enco gasolines were introduced at Pate stations in Wisconsin. Humble found that the name was popular, easily remembered and quickly associated with the company's slogan—"America's Leading Energy Company."

Consequently, Enco gasolines and the Enco identification sign were used from the start when Humble entered Los Angeles late in 1960. After today's introduction of Enco in other parts of the southwest and West, travelers will find the Enco trademark from Brownsville to Milwaukee, and from Los Angeles to Chicago.

Humble is the largest domestic oil company in the United States. It is a leader in production, refining, research, transportation and marketing. The company has national headquarters in Houston, where a new 44-story Humble Building is scheduled for completion by mid-1962.

200 Attend 4H Weiner Roast

An estimated two hundred 4H club members, parents, and friends attended the annual 4H club wiener roast held in the Anson City Park on Tuesday night, May 2nd. Adult leaders hauled in the wood and started the fires about 6:30 and 7:00 o'clock the park grounds were covered with 4H youngsters from all over Jones County.

After the wiener roast, the youngsters, adult leaders and parents were entertained with a special skating party at the Anson Roller Rink.

The annual wiener roast is held as a part of the regular 4H program in Jones County and is a part of the plans set forth by the Jones County program building committee.

REPORT FROM AUSTIN...

By REP. LEON THURMAN

This completes 115 days of the regular term of this 57th Legislature, and we really have a back-log of bills to be considered.

All members were very optimistic last Friday that we would finish our work in the regular 140 day session; however, the man in the Mansion has indicated he will veto H. B. 727 and not let it become law. This was just like dropping a bombshell, because everyone is downcast and does not know what will happen.

Most of the members now say that they will not vote for any tax bill until the Governor makes up his mind and not criticize the House. Most of them feel that constructive criticism should be given, but not the type he has given.

The Redistricting Bill has now been reported out of committee. The 85th District, which heretofore has been comprised of Dickens, King, Stonewall and Jones Counties, has been changed, and Dickens, King and Stonewall Counties are now proposed to be in the 80th District with Fisher, Nolan and Mitchell Counties. Jones County will be in the 83rd District with Knox, Baylor, Haskell and Throckmorton Counties.

We do not know whether this bill will pass or fail. The main thing we were interested in was keeping the small counties from being attached to Taylor County and not be able to receive proper representation. This having been done, we may not oppose the passage of this bill too much.

We wish the people of our District to not be critical of the Legislature because we can truly say that it has been real hard work and that it has passed a lot of good legislation and has killed a lot of bad legislation.

We would like for each of you to check and see if you will be satisfied with the redistricting bill as it has placed the counties under the new, proposal, and if you have any objections, or if you are satisfied, please let us know.

THE COACHES' CORNER...

(First of a series by the Hamlin Coaching staff.)

By Ed Farmer

The athlete has for many years been made the target of jokes, cartoons, and other forms of ridicule because he or she does not measure up to the intellectual standards of other students in school. This is a mistaken conception that has been proved by research. Dr. Terman of the University of California points out that students with superior physical ability also have a superior mind as compared to other students. Research elsewhere has pointed out that the athlete is above the average in mental ability although there are a few isolated cases where this is not true.

From these cases comes the idea that athletes are "dumb". This misconception stems from the fact that everyone knows the athlete and when he fails, it becomes a public information to all. But other students fail and very few ever hear about it.

It is common knowledge for a good football or basketball player to fail and it becomes a community broadcasting place, whereas the vast majority who pass their work and do a good job are never mentioned. Herein lies the idea that all athletes are "dumb".

Dr. Rhea Williams, Athletic Director of High School Inter-scholastic League, points out that of all the athletes who participate on the championship teams in the League, it is an exception for one of the teams to be below an 80 scholastic average.

It is up to the community and school to see that athletes are pushed to their maximum scholastic ability and to see that they are treated as everyone else is.

They should not be granted special privileges and by the same token they should not be criticized just because a person is opposed to athletic contests.

Education has found a place for the athlete and athletic contests and the people who are pointing an accusing finger at these individuals and contests are also tearing at the educational system of our nation.

One educator summed up the athlete when he said, "Many boys and girls are given the physical ability and the mind capable of developing and maintaining it, but only the athlete takes advantage of this gift."

McMurry Summer Band Dates Set

McMurry College's annual Summer Band and Twirling School will be held July 16-29 this year. Dr. Raymond T. Bynum, Indian Band director, announced this week.

Several hundred high school junior high, and college band students are expected on the campus during that two-week period, Bynum said.

The school is staffed by some of the top band teachers in West Texas. These instructors will deal mostly with the individual instruments, and much of the emphasis in the McMurry school is on this phase of work.

Also Gene Smith, Ector of Odessa, saxophone; Donald Baird, Bowie Junior High at Odessa, baritone; Mrs. Gene Young of Plains, twirling; Jerry Tate, Ropesville, drum majoring and twirling; Ann Bynum, Lubbock, Flute; and Bill Green, Snyder, bass.

Several of these instructors are McMurry graduates. Bynum said other faculty members would be named in the few weeks.

Utility Company Wins Ad Award

West Texas Utilities Company has won outstanding honors in the field of advertising in the 38th annual Bette Copy Contest sponsored by the Public Utilities Advertising Association. The announcement was made May 4 at the association's annual convention in Detroit.

WTU received a second place award for a single newspaper and magazine advertisement on area development which appeared in national newspaper and magazines in 1960.

The winning advertisement, "A Good Place To Hang Your Industrial Hat" was produced by the Curtis Taulbee Advertising Agency of San Angelo under the supervision of Dan Jones Castles, WTU Advertising Manager. This ad is one of a series used for the past four years by WTU to assist in the development of West Texas Nationally.

West Texas Utilities Company has been a consistent winner in the Better Copy Contest during the past 10 years and has won many first place and second place awards in several categories, including display advertising, window displays and publications.
